A Synopsis should appear on the first page. The Synopsis may not exceed 200 words and must be written so that readers can understand the main points of the paper without references to figures or tables. Numbers that designate compounds cannot be used in the Synopsis.

The text of the manuscript may start on the same page. For more details, please refer to the latest version of “Notice to Authors of Papers”, which is available at:

<http://www.csj.jp/journals/bcsj/>

Serif font such as TIMES or TIMES NEW ROMAN is recommended; Point size should be 12;
Manuscripts should be printed double-spaced throughout
